3 teens die in car crash

BELLE GLADE—A tragic accident resulted in deaths of three Belle Glade teenagers Thursday morning, June 8.

According to Highway Patrol Investigative Officer Nathaniel Starke, five teenagers, Jamal Omar Mussalelt, 18, 1140 NE 20th Street, Mohammed Halum, 361 W Ave A, Mary Elena Garcia, 16, 816 NE 26th Street, Tina Lynn Wright, 18, 808 NE 26th Street, and Yasser Damen Halum, 15, 908 NE 2nd Street, were returning from West Palm Beach to Belle Glade that morning, after being up all night at a beach in West Palm.

Starke said the car, an '84 Datsun, driven by Mussalelt, was traveling west on Airport Road, around 7:10 a.m. before control was lost of the car.

"It ran off onto the north shoulder of the road and came back on the roadway, then it went into the east lane and back again onto the north shoulder, before it went into the canal about 4.3 miles east of Belle Glade on Airport road," said

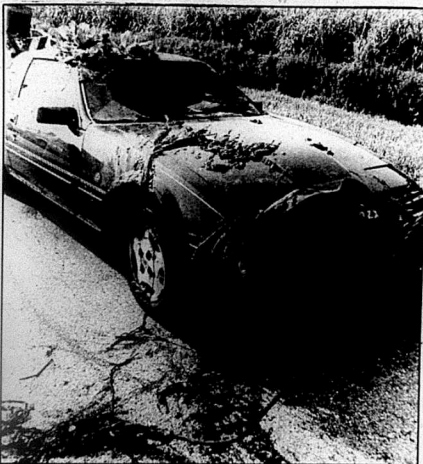

Starke.

He also said that the car was traveling approximately 60 m.p.h. before apparently flipping sideways into the canal.

Sheriff's Office Detective Steve Landrum was also at the scene.

"The car landed sideways in the water," he said. "Both front and back windshields were broken and one door was open."

Mohammed Halum and Mary Elena Garcia survived the crash with minor injuries.

THREE local youngsters died in this crash last week.

Drug crackdown continues

BELLE GLADE—The selective enforcement program aimed at curbing illicit drug trafficking and other vice related criminal activity in Belle Glade continued this weekend.

The program was initiated last week by Belle Glade Director of Public Safety Director Bill Mathis and Police Chief Michael R. Miller.

Saturday evening, June 8, uniformed and plainclothes officers of the Belle Glade Police Department, armed with arrest warrants for several different individuals, began a city wide sweep to apprehend and arrest the suspects.

Several suspects were also arrested based on probable cause developed during the "sweep". The officers involved in the sweep arrested 10 persons on various misdemeanor and felony charges.

Nine of the persons arrested were adults and two were juveniles.

Seven misdemeanor charges and eight felony charges were filed.

To date the selective enforcement program has netted the arrest of 23 persons, 20 adults and 3 juveniles on narcotics or vice related charges.

A total of 22 felony and 15 misdemeanor charges have been filed. Arrested were:

- Paul Delacruz, 25, 850 U.S. 27, South Bay, charged with possession of cocaine and possession of marijuana under 20 grams. Bond was set at $1000.

- Carl Greenwich, 30, 1316 South West Ave B Place, Belle Glade, who was charged with possession of marijuana under 20 grams. He was released on his recognizance.

- Jimmy McClarin, 24, 701 SW Ave C Place, Continued on 2

More than $200,000 to be spent

City approves marina renovation

BELLE GLADE—The City Commission Monday gave the go-ahead to over $200,000 in construction costs to renovate the old section of the marina.

The breakdown of the proposed estimate of $201,630 calls for $22,000 for fill, $18,000 for base and $39,000 for paving of roads.

About $4,000 will go for sod, $13,500 for water and the biggest chunk, $51,800, for electrical work.

Other costs are $22,500 for renovation of rest rooms, $8,500 for repair of boat ramps and $4,000 for trees. There is also an $18,330 contingency fund.

Work on roads to Torrey Island has already begun in Phase 4 of the renovation work. Work will continue through the summer.

City Manager W.E. Strang and Commissioner Charles Goodlett, who heads up the marina committee, noted that the figure is far below what the South Florida Water Management District had called for.

In other business, council took the following action:

—Took initial steps for hiring a consulting engineering firm to make a study of needs at the airport. The engineer, to be chosen by the city, must be hired in order for the city to receive Federal Aeronautics Administration funds to do work at the city airport.

—Learned that chemical liability has been taken off the market because of the large number of herbicide drift claims in the last few years.

The letter from Environmental Aviation Services of Belle Glade was turned over to the city attorney.

—Agreed to purchase high intensity visual audio warnings systems for city police cars.

Police chief Michael Miller recommended the purchase, saying that through a combined purchase with Broward County the cost is greatly reduced.

Approved a request from Royal's Inc. to allow outside display of mobile homes near its present site on State Road 80.

The proposed are will be used as a temporary storage area for overflow trailers. The present lot will not be used.

—Agreed to have 1st American Band and Trust handle the city's banking needs.

—Hired Simon Mosley as building inspector.

City readily agrees to cemetery sprinkler contribution

By GENE ANTONIO

BELLE GLADE—Mayor Thomas Altman called the Board of Trustees of the Port Mayaca Cemetery a "well-kept secret" because it is "so efficient it never needs public support."

The cemetery is owned by the cities of Belle Glade, South Bay and Pahokee and each city has a board member.

At Monday's City Council meeting Board Chairman Dudley Barnes had an easy time convincing the city to pledge $3,000 to install a sprinkler system at the cemetery's new addition.

Barnes explained to council that he had been approached by the presidents of the Belle Glade and Pahokee Garden Clubs about getting fresh water to the five acre addition.

He noted the garden clubs are willing to supply the talent, shrubbery and landscaping to the cemetery but there's a need for water there to maintain it.

The board has determined about $5,600 will be needed. The board hopes to prorate this between the three city owners. The cemetery has pledged $500.

Barnes plans to ask the cities of Pahokee and South Bay for the balance. From there, he said,

"The ladies will take over."

He commented that it would be difficult to maintain the cemetery without fresh water and there is no money in the cemetery budget to cover the sprinkler system because of the recent purchase of a tractor.

Mayor Altman noted that he had been told the garden clubs planned to seek donations for the sprinklers.

But he believes, and council agreed, that the cities own the property so they should take some of the responsibility.

The mayor said, "In this time of need we should look to the budget before making appeals."

The mayor also noted that thought should be given to a perpetual care fund.

He said, "Barring expansion, all lots will eventually be sold and then there'll be no revenue."

The mayor requested the Board study the question of perpetual care and report back to City Council.

Barnes commented that the question had been brought up earlier but there were a number of technical difficulties involved because the cemetery is owned by three cities.

Girl Scout volunteers needed

By ELKE SCHWARZ

Presently there are around 500 girls in the Glades area who want to become Girl Scouts.

The problem is—there aren't enough Girl Scout leaders to go around.

On Saturday, June 8, the Palm Glades Girl Scout Council sponsored an eight hour training workshop at West Tech for Glades area residents interested in becoming a Girl Scout leader.

"We're basically looking for people who care about kids and who could spend a little time with them each week," said Mary Gayle Vance, Girl Scout Field Executive and Younger Girl Program Specialist.

Girl Scouting has been around for many years, but what actually is the purpose behind Girl Scouting?

"Many girls think that if they don't camp out, then they can't be a girl scout," said Vance, a 30 year veteran of scouting. "That's just not so."

According to an article out of a Girl Scout manual, the Girl Scouts are a value-oriented people centered movement, the word "movement" meaning a series of acts working toward some desired aim.

There are different groups of Girl Scouts, according to age range. Daisies, Brownies, Junior, Cadettes, and Senior Scouts, all are a part of Girl Scouting.

Through troop management, girls learn to make decisions and to abide by the decisions of others and learning to follow as well as to lead.

"The Daisies make chocolate and vanilla choices, the tiny decisions," said Vance.

"Seniors make their own choices."

"We look for the gift in every child," Vance said, "and help each child grow and gain self confidence."

At the workshop, approximately 20 volunteers were introduced to the "Total Girl Scout Picture."

They learned how to plan meetings, one of the most important parts of Girl Scouting, and participated in an exercise called "How to Listen", where they gained insight on better listening techniques.

Also during the session, the group learned to make paper called "Karthongs", a small boat usually made out of banana leaves in Thailand.

Vance pointed out to the group that they could teach anything with detailed instructions to children if they allowed enough time for projects, questions, and frustrations, and taking into con-

• Andrew Washington, 20, 419 SW Ave C, faces charges of violation of probation. Bond was not set.

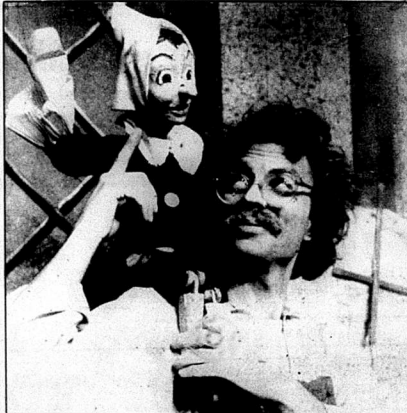

• Mary E. Lucey, 47, 440 SE 4th Street, Belle Glade, is charged with delivery of marijuana. She was released on $1000 bond.

• Tyrone Mincey Walker, 27, 424 SW Ave C, Belle Glade, is charged with violation of probation and possession of cocaine. No bond was set.

• Herman Rapone Jr, 24, 521 Union Ave, New Jersey, faces possession of marijuana under 20 grams charges. Bond was $500.

• Eddie Lee Hainthcock, 21, 1516 NW 13th Street, Belle Glade, is charged on two counts of selling marijuana. Bond was $3000.

consideration the fast and slow paces of children. Vance said besides Scout leaders, other volunteers are needed.

"We need program consultants, recruiters at each school, and adults helping in the administrative area," she said. "We want to get more people involved."

Belle Glade's Director of Community Development Gladys Ganzy, who is also a Girl Scout Leader, agreed with Vance.

"We need volunteers," said Ganzy. "It might help get some of these kids off the street."

Army news

RHINEHART

Army National Guard Private Danny R. Rhinehart, son of Marthe T. Rhinehart of 1640 W. Cole St. S., Belle Glade, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training. The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

'Pinocchio' coming to Glades

The Clewiston Recreation Department and Vagabond Marionettes of Atlanta will be sponsoring a special performance of 'Pinocchio' to kick off their summer recreation program.

The unique presentation, which will be shown at the John Boy Auditorium Tuesday, June 25 at 7:30 p.m., will feature a cast of the Blue Fairy and her hand-crafted string puppets along with a live actor, playing the role of Geppeto. The director of the production is Robyn Sosebee. "This show is full of color and excitement," Sosebee said.

'Pinocchio' is the story of a lonely boy who desperately wants to be a son of his own. After becoming a real boy, he is put out of a magical piece of wood he is amazed as it comes to life. Later, the puppet experiences many difficulties as he tries to be a real person.

Pinocchio is originally adapted from the C. Colliodi book for the puppet stage by Vincent Anthony (with additional dialogue by Robyn and Ken Sosebee) and the elements of the production work together to create a magical environment. The puppets have been created by Chimera Productions, Inc. with soft sculpture heads which give them a fantasy quality. The kindly Geppeto is portrayed by a live actor. The interaction between actor and puppet creates an atmosphere of warmth and intimacy that invites the audience to be a part of their relationship. The sets and lighting were designed by Robyn Sosebee and include some ingenious effects. Alan Sugar has designed an exciting shadow puppet sequence depicting a 19th century version of a video game in which PINOCCHIO becomes transformed into a donkey.

The Recreation Department will offer a special of one free admission for an adult when accompanied by each child paying the $1 admission charge. The admission will be $1 for each additional child or adult.

Woman held on arson charges

BELLE GLADE—Police have arrested Cora Lee Joanis, 38, 661 SW 7th Street, with arson of a house that burned down this past March.

According to police report, the house, located at 512 SW 8 Street, was termed by police and the fire department as a total loss.

No one was injured in the blaze, but further investigation led police and firemen to believe that there was foul play involved. The state fire marshal was brought in and with other investigations, concluded that the fire had been set on purpose.

A warrant was issued and officer Johnny Ivey arrested Joanis on Tuesday, June 4.

She was transported to the Palm Beach County Jail under a $10,000 bond.

Man charged with false imprisonment

BELLE GLADE—Tolbert J. Dorsey, 26, Apt. 15 Orange Circle, faces charges of false imprisonment, engaging in a criminal offense, having a firearm and battery.

According to police report, on Monday, June 10, Patrolman Ray DeBones responded to Glades general Hospital in reference to a possible abduction call.

Upon arrival at

GGH, employee Antonia Dushell told DeBones that Dorsey had come into the hospital and grabbed his girlfriend, Anita Martin, and beat her in the first floor nurse's station restroom.

While dragging Martin, Dorsey left the restroom and backhanded Dushell in the face, telling her to get out of his way.

Dorsey then drag Martin out of the building, striking her face, head, and shoulders.

He forced Martin into his car heading east, then stopped at a convenience store on SR 80.

Dorsey had Martin call her boss to inform him she would not be back to work, then drove toward Duda Road, where he began driving through cane fields.

Dorsey apparently saw a police car as he was driving and reached under the drivers seat for a gun putting a magazine into the gun and told Martin that if anyone attempted to stop him, he would stop them.

Near Dorsey's residence at Glades Correctional Institution, someone informed him that police were looking for him.

Dorsey drove to the Timesaver Store at SR 715 and NW Ave L and had Martin call the police. Martin was too shaken to speak with police, so Dorsey took the phone, identified himself, and told police he had an argument with his girlfriend, but that everything was alright.

Dorsey was told by police to come to the station, but instead went to the home of Palm Beach Sheriff's

Sgt. Albert Harper, and explained the situation. Harper, after calling the police and being informed of the incident, took Dorsey to the police station and Martin was transported to Everglades Memorial where she was treated for small lacerations in the mouth area and bruises in the face and right shoulder area.

Dorsey was transported to Palm Beach County Jail under a $25,000 bond.

Deadline set for phone number changes

West Palm Beach residents have until June 28th to make a change or addition in the Southern Bell telephone directory for this area, said Marita Sullivan, Southern Bell spokesperson.

Sullivan recommends that Southern Bell customers review their listings in the current directory and advise Southern Bell's residence or business service center if revisions are needed. Additional listings may still be added before the deadline, she said. Residential customers may call 439-9039. Business customers may call 833-9006.

Your Year to Register

If you're a young man born on or after January 1, 1960 you are required to register with Selective Service within a month of your 18th birthday.

The registration process takes less than five minutes at the post office. You just fill out a simple form asking only for your name, date of birth, address, telephone number and Social Security number.

Registration helps keep our country prepared with a pool of names to draw from in case of a national emergency... without interfering with people's lives. When you think about it... that's not a lot to ask for a country as great as ours.

Registration

It's quick. It's easy. And it's the Law.

All we can ask for

It was reported last week that South Bay, Belle Glade and Pahokee will split approximately $2 million in the form of a block grant from the Palm Beach County Division of Housing and Community Development.

Officials in each of the cities to receive the proposed grants have already earmarked the money for various badly needed projects.

It appears likely the cities will receive the money, although final approval by county commissioners is still pending.

Belle Glade will use its $1.2 million for housing, street improvements, code enforcement and the renovation of a day care center.

Pahokee, which will receive $550,000, will spend $250,000 on the development of a 36-unit apartment complex, $150,000 on the purchase of 20 lots for low income housing, and $150,000 to rebuild the main sewage lift station.

South Bay would use its $325,000 for street improvements and providing affordable housing.

These are big bucks, to be sure, but there is a big job ahead for city fathers in each of the communities.

Remar Harvin, Belle Glade director of planning and urban development, has revealed that the city is seeking "no less than $5 million" from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

That grant, if approved, would be spent for more new housing and to purchase property for the construction of other new housing.

There is no "quick fix" on the horizon, as Mayor Tom Altman observed.

It would take millions of dollars which the neither the city nor anyone else has to correct all of the area's housing problems.

Progress is being made. In Belle Glade, for instance, 1,100 living units have been cited as being in violation of the city's building code during the past year. Many of those structures will be torn down.

Some of the proposed grant money would be used to relocate those affected by the code actions.

This fiscal year, Belle Glade officials are planning to buy land occupied by dilapidated buildings, raze the buildings, and make the land available to developers at a nominal cost.

Developers would be able to pass on the savings - having no or little money invested in land - to new home owners.

This is one example of government and the private sector working together for the good of the community's residents.

The City of Belle Glade has been receiving grants from HUD for the past 13 years. For the first decade it received the money directly and averaged about $470,000 annually.

Three years ago, the city decided to join the county in its quest for grant money. This year the city is projected to receive about $1 million. It was a change that paid off.

The improvements, proposed, in progress, and completed, are encouraging. The problems which face the area are long term, demanding long-term solutions.

We believe local government is doing the best it can with what it has to work with to provide those long-term solutions. That's all we can ask for.

"We've worked long and hard on the decision to eliminate prayer from the moment of silence in schools. Now let's close this meeting with a moment of silent prayer."

The bad luck continues

Some of you may remember the unfortunate way I started out last Monday—with a flat tire. You may also remember the flack I caught from my Significant Other for not getting my tire looked at early enough.

Well, it seems that this week (naturally) on a Monday morning is my Significant Other's turn for some bad luck.

Around 4 a.m. that morning, as he was on his way to work, his car overheated.

The phone rings at our place about a half an hour later.

As I groggily answer, I hear my Significant Other's voice saying those dreaded words, "Uh, my car overheated—can you come and get me and take me to work?"

"It's a jungle out there! I was out in the middle of nowhere," he said. "I had to jog 20 minutes to the nearest phone."

"I saw a snake along the way," he went on. "I moved—then I moved. Then I stepped on something hard—it felt like a baseball, but it moved!"

Later on that day, the car had to be towed. "They charged me $88 for towing my car!" he relayed to me over the phone. They wanted to know if I left my keys in the car and told me I left my emergency brake on.

"I told them that at 4 a.m. what am I supposed to do?" he ranted. "I don't want anyone to steal my car and I put the emergency brake on because I didn't want the car to end up in the canal. They charged me $35 extra to jack up the car a whole two more inches!"

RESPECTFULLY SPEAKING

Elke Schwarz

Of course, I sympathized through the whole ordeal.

As of yet, my Significant Other doesn't have his car, which means I must carry him to work.

For the past two days, I have been graced with getting up at 4 a.m. in order to get him to work on time and to drive him anywhere around creation where he has to go.

Even though I consider myself a morning person, getting up this early has put a damper on my disposition.

But I'm looking on the bright side.

Getting up in the wee hours of the morning reminds me of the good old days when I use to vacation at my aunt's farm.

Even though, I was on vacation, I loved to get up very early, and help my aunt and uncle milk the cows and help around the farm.

I've forgotten how nice and quiet things are in the mornings and how pretty the sunrise can be.

I guess its bad times like this that remind you of the good times in your life.

But I still hope my Significant other gets his car fixed—and soon.

Letters policy

We solicit and encourage letters to the editor.

Our guidelines are simple:

- ✓ No libelous content.
- ✓ Letters should be relatively brief - no more than 300 words as a general rule.
- ✓ Signatures are required.
- ✓ No poetry, please.

Editor:

It is important that the citizens of this district understand the method by which the School Board of Palm Beach County conducts business that comes before it. There is evidence that the roles of the Board and Superintendent are often misunderstood.

The Board hires the Superintendent to professionally administer the laws of the Federal, State and Local governments—together with the policies of the Board. The state constitutional office of Superintendent is totally administrative in nature. Every decision made is based on authority derived from the sources of government stated above.

The Board is elected by all voters in the district and obtains authority from the same sources as the Superintendent, but, their authority is legislative. There is no overlapping authority outside of Board meetings. Decisions are made - after considering the recommendation of the Superintendent. This is required by law. The members vote on each recommendation or may substitute their judgment for the Superintendent's, again, on legislative matters only. The Superintendent has no vote. The Board is ultimately responsible for the system.

The Board serves without a salary, unlike the other 66 counties in Florida. The term of Board member is four years. The next communication will convey some of the needs of the district as perceived by this writer.

Sincerely,
Louis J. Eassa, Chairman
The School Board of Palm Beach County

A time to listen

In a confrontation with leaders of a church and the youth of the same church, a pompous businessman asked a ninth grader why the youth were so opposed to a governing body. The teenager replied, "I'm not, I just want to be your friend."

A group of youth met with a number of clergymen recently. The young ranged from long hair, and boxes to bare feet and conventional clothing and hair styles.

The young people were recruited without any knowledge or prior preparation except that they would engage in dialogue with some ministers. The clergymen were there because they were interested in youth.

The young people ranging from 14 to 21 appeared and were content to keep to themselves. The ministers mainly observed the younger group. One or two attempted conversation. The dialogue began. It was more like a pitched battle. Young people on one side daring the ministers to say something which they could knock down with verbal snowballs.

The groups were then separated into different rooms by leaders. Each group was asked to characterize the members of the other group. Then they were asked to describe themselves as they saw themselves. Finally they were asked to imagine what the other group thought of them.

There seemed to be a great deal of honesty by members of both groups. As you can imagine the older observers were a lot more wary than the younger.

After going over the lists made by the other group, the verbal barrage began. Claims and counter claims flooded across the room. One middle aged small community pastor claimed that he was trapped. At least two college students jumped upon him with words such as "no one controls you".

His reply was an effort to show that the congregation through its contributions controls much of what he minister can do.

The pastor may make changes and perhaps attract youth to services. Many are not interested in attending formal worship because of its more or less rigid form.

Dr. David T. Evans

Everglades Presbyterian Church

The young people face criticism and complaints from parents and adults but feel they won't be cut off without funds for education no matter what they do. They can and generally do move from normal church activities for a variety of reasons and excuses.

Many use the old excuse, there are hypocrites in the church. This is true, but it isn't so everywhere. Some Christians feel very pious because they belong to a church or attend services regularly.

The institutional church has tried to accept its role as being concerned over social issues. This has brought the wrath of most adults and criticism of too little and too late by young people.

After a heated exchange, the large group was self directed to interest centers. With two ministers and two young people, the discussion reached meaningful levels. Honesty and warmth replaced the verbal bricks.

It was a good chance to listen. For the most part, the young people were not against Christians as individuals but against the lack of dedication of many who professed to be and didn't act as a follower of Christ.

The writer of Ecclesiastes says "...a time to keep silence and a time to speak." It would bring more understanding if we listen in love as well as speak in love. If groups can be brought together out side of crisis situation, much reconciliation can take place.

Glades Central hosts wrestling camp

Glades Central High School will host its first annual wrestling camp this summer.

The camp runs from July 1-3 and is open to boys of all ages.

It will be an all day affair (9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.) and wrestlers should bring a packed lunch each day. Soft drinks will be sold at 50 cents each.

The program will be conducted in the Glades Central wrestling room.

Staff includes Camp Director Frank Lasagna, head wrestling coach at Glades Central for past two years, John Hubbard, James Moore, and Phillip Parley.

Hubbard is a senior wrestler, two time freestyle state champion, second place state wrestling tournament, district, regional and conference champion.

Moore is also a senior wrestler, a two time state tournament qualifier, district, region, and conference champion.

Parley is a junior wrestler, and a conference champion state tournament qualifier.

The purpose of the camp is to give beginning wrestlers a knowledge of the sport while also providing for those wrestlers that already have some experience.

The program cost is $25 per wrestler in comparison with other camps of this duration which cost $150 or more.

Strict rules of conduct will be enforced. Any failure to adhere to these rules is grounds for dismissal without a refund.

Applications for the program can be obtained through Lasagna or any high school wrestler.

Tampa, May 31 through June 2. Medals were won in the following events, Standing, long jump, 50 meter dash, 400 meter dash, softball throw, and frisbee throw.

Those from the Glades who attended included: Coaches Jan Royal, Lori Ogden, Susan Russell, and Enis Adams; David McInnis, Tim Mander, Angela Starks, Zina Bush, Benita Downer, Shelia McClary, Dkon McDaniels, Jessie Willis, Handy Johnson and Lorenzo Thompson.

Cards help Cancer Society

BELLE GLADE-- The Glades Area Cancer Crusade is selling golf card memberships to help raise funds for the fight against cancer.

The donation for the golf cards are $25 and entitles the bearer to play one round of golf at 22 locations from Belle Glade to Lake Worth.

Most of the courses are open from May 1 through October 1, with reservations suggested in advance.

Golf cards can be purchased at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce or the Belle Glade Country Club.

Glades bowling champs

BELLE GLADE-- Young Glades bowlers did well recently in competition against bowlers from West Palm Beach, Riviera Beach, Boca Raton and Delray Beach, according to their coach Joyce Salvador.

The County tournament for Y.A.B.A. was held in West Palm Beach at Verdies Tropicaliana. Thirty-two youth from the Glades area participated in the competition.

In the doubles competition, Ryan Mann and Jeff Goodale placed second in the county in the eight year old range. Joel Payabyab and Sarah Watson placed seventh in the competition.

Fishing Report :

Compliments of Tennessee's Pro Guide Service

Not even the hot, sweltering weather could keep 152 fishermen away from J-Mark's Terry Ford Trailmaster Tournament last Sunday.

First place went to Richard and Quin Nix of Okeschoke for 25 pounds, nine ounces. Second place was taken by Kelly Newberry and Maurice Faircloth with 24 pounds, two ounces.

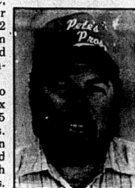

Third place winners were Jack Bailey and Dennis Hardy with 23 pounds, seven ounces.

Local fishermen finishing in the top ten were H.L. Barber and Benton Tyson, seventh place, and Harold Peacock and Pablo Sanchez finishing in 10th place.

Jim Wells of Clewiston hauled in the largest bass of the day tipping the scales at nine pounds, 13 ounces.

Wells also did great in the draw and took home a Mercury Thruster trolling motor. Evan Swan won the Phoenix rod while Les Jones took away the Lawrence Depth Finder. Jack Bailey went home with the Yamaha generator.

With only two tournaments left before Terry Ford's Classic, everyone is keeping a close watch on the total and Pahokee.

The Classic tournament is scheduled for November 17th when the top team will be awarded the use of two new Ford Ranger trucks for the year.

Our next Terry Ford Tournament will be held July 21st and until that time the results of Sunday's tournament will be posted at J-Mark's Fish Camp.

Overall, fishing has been real good, in spite of this terribly hot weather. A lot of small bass are being caught on worms, jigs and crank bait.

The bluegill are still walk away with a out there and eating up crickets and beetle spins. And believe it or not, specks are still being caught in record numbers. Guess they Maurice Faircloth and haven't noticed the Kelly Newberry. Running a close second are J.T. Adcock and why I haven't told you anything about my guide trips this week, Bert Crowell and it's because last Ray Waters was Wednesday I had an accident and the 261 points, and locally "Fater Digger" will be Harold Peacock and out of commission for a while, but I'll still be fishing.

Until next week, safe boating and good luck fishing.

Also, in the top 50 standings we have 17 teams from Belle Glade

L.C. Coghill took sixth place in the F Division.

Joel Payabyab won second place in the F Division and first place in the All Events competition went to Jeremy Lovell.

Robert Archer won a third place trophy in the D Division.

Stevenson, 39th; Jocelyn Payabyab, 43rd; Clayton Salvador, 45th; Jamie Lumpkin, 50th and Forrester, 46th; Cindy Sarah Watson, 51st Alvarez, 49th; Wayne place.

Eagle Stores to become Dollar General June 18

BELLE GLADE, Fla. (June 4, 1984) — In a few short hours the Eagle Family Discount Stores in the area will be completely transformed into value-oriented self-service discount stores featuring family apparel and shoes, health and beauty aids, home cleaning products and housewares.

Store locations include 519 E. Fifth Street in Belle Glade and 590 E. Main St. in Pahokee.

When the Eagle Stores close their doors for the last time at 9 p.m. on Tuesday, June 18, they will remain closed for 36 hours for store conversion. The locations will reopen as Dollar General Stores at 9 a.m. Thursday, June 20.

That transformation will take place in 35 Florida stores this month on exactly the same timetable. The store conversions follow Dollar General Corporation's February acquisition of more than 200 Eagle Family Discount Stores in Florida. Prior to the acquisition, Dollar General Stores had 86 stores in Florida and 23-state network of 1,080 stores.

The local stores will feature lower prices and a broader assortment of basic family needs.

"Eagle customers will now have greater selections and lower prices than ever before," Dollar General President Cal Turner, Jr., said, "and that is not simply an advertising boast."

He explained that Dollar General has become the retailing industry specialist at buying and selling high quality irregular and closeout merchandise. Minor flaws make irregulars available to Dollar General at very low prices. Those savings are passed on to customers with a money back guarantee assuring satisfaction. Closeouts have no flaws, but are sold to Dollar General at prices far below normal wholesale, because it helps manufacturers meet their need for quick sale.

"That means our stores often can sell those items at half the regular first quality retail price," Turner said.

He noted that the company also makes it a policy to sell first quality merchandise at the lowest everyday prices.

"Our mission is to serve, better than anyone else, our customers' needs for quality basic merchandise at the lowest everyday prices," Mr. Turner said.

Witness tampering charged

BELLE GLADE — Police arrested two men and two juveniles for allegedly threatening bodily harm to Theodore Williams, 24, Belle Glade, if he testified in an upcoming court case.

According to police report, on Tuesday, June 4, Patrolman C.D. Whitlock became aware of a disturbance in the 215 SW 5th Street area.

Williams ran up to Whitlock and told the officer that he had just been threatened by the four males if he testified against one of them in an upcoming court case.

After investigation, police apprehended James B. Cannon, 27, 577 SW 7th Street.

Belle Glade, Phillip Williams, 21, 400 E. 11th Ave. South Bay, and two juveniles who were also involved.

All suspects were charged with tampering with a witness.

The youths were turned over to the detention center in West Palm Beach and the adults were transported to the county jail under $1000 bond.
